

NASPE MID★YEAR MEETING

January 28-30, 2011
Dupont Hotel ★ Washington, DC

www.naspe.net

The National Association of State Personnel Executives represents the directors and deputy directors for each state government and territorial human resource management agency—the agencies responsible for statewide human resource management policies and operations. Their specific areas of responsibility may include: organizational development, recruitment and retention, workforce and succession planning, classification and compensation, time and attendance, employee benefits, training, information systems, and employee relations.

Established in 1977, NASPE is a national leadership forum that advances state government human resources through the exchange of best practices, strategies, and solutions.
